The White House Nursery also endures to promote British values throughout the nursery and embeds these during the activities and experiences provided through play.

Values such as:

- Democracy – providing social equality through play and by planning around the children’s interests.
- Liberty – ensuring there is freedom to make choices, but equally to recognise that we are all accountable for our own actions.
- Respect – by listening to others and respecting their views and beliefs as long as it does not promote extremism. To encourage good manners at all times.
- Law – to apply the rules and boundaries of the setting and to ensure that the children understand why they are there and the consequences if they are broken.
- Responsibility – to help children understand that they are responsible for their own actions – whether good or bad. And that everyone has a responsibility promote and protect the well being of others.
- Tolerance – this will be encouraged by turn taking, waiting patiently and the children will be shown that it is unacceptable to dismiss the opinions of others.
